

Certified Cold Carrier Program

Industry recognition

No matter where you are on the globe, aligning your company with the U.S. Food Safety Modernization Act (FSMA) best practices is accomplished with this GCCA program designed to recognize carrier organizations for their commitment to sanitary and safe transportation of perishable products.

It's Easy

1. Implement best practices found the IRTA
Refrigerated Transportation Best Practices Guide
2. Complete the application
3. Submit a Quality Assurance Manual
4. Designate staff to participate
5. Receive recognition
6. Renew every 3 years

Participants

The companies below have been recognized as Certified Cold Carriers:

- Charger Logistics
- FFE Transportation Services
- Great Plains Transport
- JB Hunt
- KeHE
- Midwest Refrigerated Services, Inc.
- Sethmar Transportation Inc.
- Trailiner
- WEL Companies

Results

Participants are able to...

- Demonstrate your organization's commitment to sanitary transport of food
- Differentiate your organization from its competitors as an industry leader
- Show your dedication to furthering the transportation and supply chain industries

The value in the Certified Cold Carrier program for us is two-fold. Internally, it invites review of best practices and creates an opportunity to re-engage drivers and staff on critical temperature control processes.

Externally, it differentiates us from other carriers by demonstrating that our cold chain practices relative to the safe transportation of food are verified by a third party so that customers can have confidence in entrusting their refrigerated and frozen shipments to us.

Jim Koeble, Vice President –
Transportation, Midwest Refrigerated Services, Inc.
